Claims

r0017	A basket (4) which is used in dishwashers and on which utensils are placed [001]	sometising one or more drawers (8) placed underneath it.
[002]	A backet (4) as defined in claim 1 characterized with a drawer (8) having a base [002]	at the approximately same level with the base of the basket (4) in order not to effect the area of use under the basket (4).
[003]	A backet (4) as defined in claim 2 characterized with a drawer (8) which has a form and structure that covers any formation of unused volumes below the symport surfaces (7) on which glasses are preferably placed and which are is alread in order to prevent water to remain on the top part of the glasses and which provides an additional space wherein objects to be washed can be placed without changing the size of the basket (4) and reducing the washing performance.
[004]	A basket (4) as defined in claim 2 characterized with a drawer (8) covers the volume which is obtained by elevating the base of the basket (4) on which some of the holders (6) which enable the plates to stand upright are positioned in order to utilize the unused volumes that appear above plates which are smaller than
•	biggest plates. A basket (4) as defined in any of the above claims characterized with a carrier
[005]	A basket (4) as defined in any of the above example characters
	(9) on which a drawer (8) is placed. A basket (4) as defined in claim 5 characterized with a drawer (8) comprising [006]	one or more sleds (10) which enable a sliding movement on the carrier (9), a have (11) which has a perforated structure and one or more protrusions (12) which enable resting of objects such as forks and spoons without touching each athor
[007]	A backet (4) as defined in claim 6 characterized with a carrier (9) comprising one or more hooks (13) which enable attachment to the basket (4) and one or more the star (14) on which the steds (10) rest.
[800]	A dishwasher (1) comprising a basket (4) as defined in any of the above claims.
[000]	